FEATURE HOUSE
TONIGHT

"DESTRUCTION"
Featuring Theda Bara, in this William Fox drama. This photoplay was written by Nikola Danile. "Destruction" is an educational photoplay; educational from the artist's viewpoint as well as from that of the student of economics. Were it not for the dramatic story woven throughout its many scenes, it might pass for one of the greatest of industrial films, for much of its action takes place in one of the largest steel mills in the country. Ferdinand (Theda Bara), wickedness incarnate, whose glance breeds madness, her touch destruction, is the latest role to be created by Bara, the incomparable. Snared by her fascinations, Mr. Fremont, a wealthy mill owner, marries the bewitching Ferdi-nande. By her machinations Fremont and his son, Jack, become estranged.
She intrigues with Delevan, his partner, recklessly squanders his wealth, and when she needs more considers to have the scanty wages of the mill laborers still further reduced. A strike is the result. On top of this Fremont discovers his wife's infidelity. Climax on climax, it speeds to a terrific and spectacular finish.

THURSDAY—"Temptation." Gery-aldine Farrar. Among those who appear in support of the star are Theo.
Roberts, Pedro de Cordoba, Raymond Hutton and Elsie Jane Wilson. This story by Hector Turnbull.

Matinee open 2 to 5 p. m. The best of pictures at all times and the coolest place in town.

Big U. drama, featuring Thomas Jefferson with Antrim Short and Mrs.
Geo. Hernandez. Captain Billy Sanford (Thomas Jefferson) was the sole surviving member of the Grand Army of the Republic. For over forty years he had regularly been chosen as the grand marshal of the Memorial Day procession. This is a great rural Decoration Day dream. See it sure.

"MR. FULLER PEP AND LENA."
BASKETTE
Powers Drama.
Today I have Charlie Chaplin in comedies he ever was in. Now if you stay away, as this one is a winner.

Lovely the star. The fountains of sen-new methods to quicken the interest; stirring scenes following in quick succession; there is a thrill and a throb in every moment, and throughout the immensely entertaining photoplay there is an engaging love story to fire the imagination and double the interest.

Coveted by a millionaire world-cruising yachtsman, the beautiful wife of an humble Italian was kidnapped—but rather than submit, she drowned herself. Every hour her husband lived thereafter, the desire for vengeance grew deeper in his heart. How the Italian followed the American to his home, kidnapped the millionaire's wife, came face to face with the man he sought and was denied, by sudden death, the vengeance that he craved, forms but an outline of the gripping plot.

WROTE FOR A MONGOOSE

Revenge on Rats, Which Annoy Them, Plotted by British Soldiers in Trenches.

An army officer searched all London one day for a mongoose, which is a venomous animal. He had received a pitiful letter from some friends in the trenches asking for one of these valuable little beasts—a sure cure for rat plague. He was told that one could only be had if a private individual happened to have one to sell, and the price would be about $27.50.

Cecil Isaacs of the Royal Menageries said the mongoose is the only animal that can be depended upon to rid a trench of rats.

"A ferret," he said, "will kill for the sake of eating. But a mongoose kills for the sake of killing. I guarantee that any trench with a mongoose will not suffer from rats. The difficulty is to get a mongoose. I have sent out half a dozen recently to France, but live stock is not being shipped to England now, and the home of the mongoose is Ceylon.

"The only chance is to seek out private owners and ask them to sell.
Many inquiries have reached me from officers at the front. Even the ferret is scarce."

Golden Age of Our Poetry.
There is no more hopeful sign of the advancement of a new age of artistic appreciation in this country than the recent genuine renaissance of native and vigorous poetry, blazing new trails for itself in realism, fantasy, form and method, says the Century.

The best of this work is based upon the craftsman's knowledge of his craft and his clear-sighted study of the poetic "old masters," though the modern poet shows his individuality in two distinct ways. He is either a mercenary and challenging realist or weaves new and gorgeous patterns upon the loom of fancy, rejecting old poetic phrase, the age-long pigeon holed "fit expression" for a given theme, shaping out of the flexible, slang accented language of the day a new poetic diction full of pith and "brimmed with ambitious meanings up." Thus, mixed metaphorically, some idea may be given of his enthusiastic and hearty modern method.

There's nothing so comfortable in warm weather as a genuine

A SYMBOL OF HEALTH

The Pythagorians of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and still fulfills its ancient mission as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness or constipation, get a package of these tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised at the quick relief which they afford. Obtainable everywhere.
